

THE PARIS PROPERTY CHRONICLES

In Episode 10 of the Paris Property Chronicles, now available on Apple Podcasts, Podbean and World Radio Paris, my guest is Jasmine Tan, a San Francisco-based entrepreneur born in Singapore who is the CEO, CFO, stylist and shopgirl all rolled into one at her urban emporium, PICNIC SF. After years of visiting Paris with her family, she eventually purchased and renovated a small apartment in the 17th district near the Parc Monceau and market street rue de Lévis. Please listen and hear how this shopgirl realised her dream and became the owner of a pied-a-terre in Paris.

After assisting Jasmine in finding and purchasing her apartment on rue de Saussure, I also managed the renovation of the property. The apartment, located on the 3rd floor of a period building without elevator, measured 35m² or 365 square feet, had lovely period details, including a fireplace, hardwood floors and mouldings, which were not easy to appreciate in its previous state. With some vision and planning, the property was transformed while preserving the original details from the early 19th century, including a new kitchen, a new bathroom, refinishing the hardwood floors, new electricity and plumbing, as well as painting of the entire apartment.

The results of the renovation optimised the space and with creative solutions and capitalising on natural light, we created a beautiful apartment with the modern conveniences, while respecting the period details. To see the stunning transformation of Jasmine's apartment, which took just over three months from beginning to end, please visit my web site to view the Saussure Lévis Project and you too will be amazed how a little vision can go a long way and help you realise your dream of having a property in Paris.
